Janus Worldwide experiences market growth, ranking in the Global Top 50 Largest Translation Companies and One of the Top 10 in Western Europe

Independent market research firm Common Sense Advisory recognizes Janus Worldwide as a leader in $40.27 billion global industry

(Vienna, Austria, Jul 19) – Janus Worldwide announced today its official ranking as one of the largest language services providers (LSPs) in the translation and interpreting industry. Issued July 2016 by independent market research firm Common Sense Advisory (CSA Research), the report titled “The Language Services Market: 2016” ranked Janus Worldwide as a top-grossing language service provider in the US$40.27 billion global market for outsourced language services and technology. Janus Worldwide was named as the 45th largest LSP in the world and 10th in Western Europe. Thus, Janus Worldwide demonstrated a significant upward move in the Western European Top 50 Language Services Providers from 12th place to 10th place in just one year.

The fact that Janus Worldwide placed so high comes from the implementation of a consistent global development strategy aimed at securing its status as a top language service provider. In this regard, Janus Worldwide opened representative offices in the Czech Republic, Germany and Great Britain at the start of the year, which will allow the company to implement its “Follow the Sun” customer and supplier interaction model successfully and offer comprehensive linguistic support 24/7.

Janus Worldwide diligently works to improve the service quality and regularly renews its ISO 9001:2008 and ISO 17100:2015-05 (Translation Services) compliance certificates, adding ISO 13611:2014-12 (Community Interpreting Services) compliance certification to its portfolio this year.

By focusing on innovation, versatility, continuous improvement and customer satisfaction, Janus Worldwide not only surpasses its own results and ratings from year to year, but most importantly continues to earn the loyalty and trust of its customers.

The Common Sense Advisory 12th annual global industry report states that the demand for language services grew by 5.52%. As organizations both large and small address more languages, the firm predicts that the language services industry will continue to grow and that the market will increase to US$45 billion by 2020.
